

RHA Benevolent Fund

"A helping hand in times of need"

What is it?

The RHA Benevolent Fund has been set up to give people a helping hand when they need it most. The charity exists to support RHA members and their staff, both past and present, during financial hardship.

This includes members and former members of the RHA, their employees and former employees, as well as their dependents.

How to support

The Benevolent Fund is mainly financed by donations from RHA members and money raised at social functions. You can contribute to the fund in a number of ways, either as an individual or an organisation, and by doing so will be supporting your industry peers in times of need.

You can donate to the fund by:

- Monthly donation
- One-off donation
- Postal donation
- Holding a fundraising event
- Leaving a gift in your will
- Becoming a Centurion

RHA Benevolent Fund – registered charity number 1082820.

What it can be used for?

The fund has helped hundreds of people in many ways over the years. It can be used for:

- Buying white goods
- Buying clothes
- Help with much-needed aid equipment such as wet rooms, wheelchairs, specialist beds, etc.
- Help with outstanding bills

The fund can also be used to finance training. Any drivers made redundant by RHA members can apply for a free day's Driver CPC or an HGV driver medical to help them get back to work.

How to apply

You need to have an RHA connection to apply for support. Similarly, you can contact us if you know someone with a connection to the RHA who could benefit from the fund.

You can apply either by email or post using the application form on the RHA website along with accompanying documentation. Each application will be assessed on its individual circumstances.
